I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone

Listen to me! Calomel sickens and you may lose a day's work. If bilious, constipated or headachy read my guarantee.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle

News of Ten Years Ago

(From the Herald Files)

Hayti was boasting of the only macadamized road in the county.

The Modern Woodmen had installed officers as follows: H. L. Davidson, consul; B. L. Guffy, advisor; B. S. Stearns, escort; J. T. Buckley, clerk; J. M. Byrd, banker, and they had invited the Herald editor to their banquet.

I. Kohn had retired from Monett, Ark., where he had bought a stock of Ark., where he had bought a stock of goods, and his brother, Arthur, took charge of the store.

There was not a vacant residence in Hayti, which speaks well for Hayti at that time.

P. S. Ravenstein had traded his Chaffee property for the John Mears property in this city.

Miss Lillian May Sprayberry was attending school at Fulton, Ky., and had entered the fourth grade. James Moore was editor of the Argus at Caruthersville, during the absence of Harvey E. Averill as a member of the State Legislature.

With its next issue the Hayti Herald would be three months old, and from a glance back through its pages, it was quite a robust youngster. It had good advertising patronage from the home merchants, scarcely a business house being absent from its columns.

W. E. Lacey, owner of the Caruthersville Twice-A-Week Democrat, had bought the Pemiscot Press of the same city, and merged the two papers together.

John Sturm, the lumberman, then better known as "Sycamore," had come in home on account of a blizzard.

Albert Popham and Geo. Curtner had returned from a visit in Kentucky.

T. A. McNaill was the new cashier for the Bank of Hayti, and was putting in some time getting acquainted. Virg. P. Adams was attending the Federal Court in St. Louis, in a land case.

Lawyer S. J. Jeffress had formed a law partnership with Judge J. S. Gossom at Caruthersville and was intending to move to that city.

The Caruthersville Press said that Lawyer Von Mayes of this city was preparing to move over there.

Willis Whitelock was in town a few hours Saturday trading.

Mrs. Chas. Spencer was very ill this week.

SCHOOL NOTES

Three cheers for the Herald's suggestion anent the Arbor Day work on the high school grounds! The four high school grades had planned for the planting of some hardy bulbs, some violet beds along the walks, and some trees. The Herald, The City Council and the Board of Education are asked for suggestions, and for their cooperation. The school square may, indeed, be made a beautiful spot.

The senior class is at work on the 1919 PEMISCOVIAN. It is to be well arranged, well illustrated—and a fit companion for the previous volumes.

The Class of 1918 have purchased two sculptured casts; one "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence," the other, "Paul Revere's Ride." They are of bronze, about 30x40 inches. The school feels deeply indebted to the graduates of last year for this gift; in fact, it will be highly prized by the whole people. The giving of the gift shows that the graduates still have at heart the welfare of the school.

Some new books were received this week for the grade school library. All that is being spent for library purposes this year is being spent for the grade school. The elementary pupil should be given first consideration.

The second number of the Lyceum course will be THE LYRIC CLUB, whose program of the best in music will be given January 21. Watch for the announcements and hand bills.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

JOHN ROSE, Principal.

We have eleven new students. This makes our total enrollment 437. We are having a fine attendance now, and many of the rooms are very crowded.

We are having very few tardies, and we thank the patrons for getting their children to school on time. If your child is tardy, will you please send an excuse; oftentimes this helps to keep the child from being late. The reason we require the excuse is that a few have been known to stay out personally.

One hundred and eight have been neither tardy nor absent for the month, and their names follow:

HONOR ROLL.

Andrew J. Pullem in Camp

Camp Funston, Kan., Nov. 22, 1918. Mr. Otis Popham, Hayti, Mo. Kind Friend:

I take the greatest pleasure in writing you a few lines. This leaves me well and sassy and I hope will find you the same. Well, Otis, this is in time of peace, and why are they holding us in the camps? We are all needed at home. In time of war we did not mind being in camp and take the drilling like we do now. Most of the boys are farmers' boys, and that is why we are needed at home. What will we do when we get out if we are held six months longer, and, kind friend, we left our homes and our farms when we were drafted into the service, and we are all trying to find out why we are held this long after the war is over. Friend Otis, we do not mind the work here; it is not hard like we get at home. Well, Otis, I returned just a few days ago off of a furlough. I over-stayed my pass and got three days in K. P. I love to do my work, and that is why we want to get back home, now that the war is over.

We are fixing up to have a nice Christmas. We are going to have all kinds of races and all kinds of games, and a big Christmas dinner, and I am sure we will have a nice time on that day. I hope everybody outside of the military service will have a nice time also. Otis, the most of the boys returning home say they don't get anything to eat, but that is a bad mistake, for we have anything we want in all lines of eating.

Otis, I will close. Please answer or put this letter in your paper.

Your friend,

ANDREW PULLEM.

P. S.: That you may know something about the K. P., I am giving herewith the general rules governing same:

- 1.—Take charge of all spuds and all gray in view.
- 2.—Watch your plate in a military manner, keeping always on the alert for any stray sausage that comes within sight or hearing.
- 3.—Report any bread sliced too thin to the mess sergeant.
- 4.—Report all calls for second cook.
- 5.—To quit the table only when nothing is left.
- 6.—In case of fire in the mess hall, grab all the grub that is left by others in making their escape.
- 7.—Talk to no one except those who ask for onions.
- 8.—To receive, but not to pass on to the other fellow any meat, cabbage or beans left by non commissioned cooks.
- 9.—In any case not covered by instructions, call battery clerk or sergeant mayor.
- 10.—Allow no one to steal anything in the line of grub.
- 11.—Salute all beef, steak, ham, eggs and liver.
- 12.—Be especially watchful at the table and during the time for eating, and kill all persons who get more than their share of prunes.
